Manfred Schnitzler DOD: 5-21-12	LYDIA SCHNITZLER, sole Successor Trustee of the Schnitzler Family Living Trust dated 11-6-95, is Petitioner. Petitioner states she and Manfred Schnitzler established the trust on 11-6-95. Manfred Schnitzler died 5-21-12, and Lydia is now sole trustee. The trust provides that on the death of Manfred Schnitzler, the trust is to be divided into two sub-trusts: a Family Trust and a Marital Trust. According to the trust, the entire trust shall not be subject to amendment or revocation upon the death of the first settlor to die; however, the surviving settlor has general power of appointment over the marital trust. The fractional formula set forth in the trust will result in one-half of the assets distributable to the Family Trust, and one-half to the Marital Trust. Petitioner is the lifetime beneficiary of both trusts and upon her death, both sub-trusts are to be distributed pursuant to the Schedule of Specific Distributions with specific parcels gifted to the settlors' children Gary Schnitzler, Marlene Jackson, and Steven Schnitzler, and remaining balance in equal shares, or to his or her descendants, per stirpes. Petitioner states the assets consist of various real property related to farming operations, a vacation property in Morro Bay, and over 90% of the common stock in Schnitzler Farms, Inc., a California corporation. Settlors' son Gary Schnitzler farmed the properties for many years with his father and in the last approx. seven years, took on increased responsibility and was primarily responsible for farming and managing the business. Steven Schnitzler is a pharmacist and is not involved in farming. Marlene Jackson and her family have other substantial farming operations and are not involved in farming the Schnitzler properties. In approximately early 2012, Attorney Michael Buettner met with Manfred and Lydia Schnitzler and they told him that they wished to make changes to their living trust and gave specific directions regarding the changes to be made. Gary summarized the changes by listing the properties that were to go to each beneficiary and Manfred and Lydia indicated that the proposed distribution on Gary's list was what they wanted. In particular, they wanted to change the specific gifts so that the majority of the farm assets and stock in Schnitzler Farms, Inc., were to be distributed to Gary, with Steven and Marlene receiving other assets. This differed completely from the proposed distributions of the original trust. Manfred and Lydia Schnitzler advised Mr. Buettner that they wished to have most of the farm properties go to Gary because he had devoted his life to farming them and much of the value of the farming operation was attributable to his efforts. SEE ADDITIONAL PAGES	NEEDS/PROBLEMS/ COMMENTS: 1. The petition lists "all persons who may be interested in the trust," but does not indicate that the list includes all persons who are "entitled to notice" pursuant to Probate Code §17201. The Court may require clarification with reference to §17203, which includes any person other than a trustee or beneficiary whose right, title or interest would be affected by the petition and who does not receive notice as a trustee or beneficiary. Examiner notes that notice to the settlors' grandchildren may be appropriate, because in the event that Gary, Marlene, or Steven predeceases Lydia, they may then be beneficiaries.

Attorney Buettner drafted a restatement of the trust pursuant to the settlors' instructions and coordinated a meeting with all of the family members, including Manfred, Lydia, Gary, Steven, and Marlene, to go over the restated trust. However, Manfred went into the hospital on the day of the scheduled meeting and died a few days later.

Attorney Buettner discloses that he has served as attorney for Gary Schnitzler prior to the time that he served as attorney for Manfred and Lydia Schnitzler, and Gary Schnitzler stands to gain considerably from the proposed restatement of the trust.

Petitioner states the trust contains a so-called "spendthrift" clause that provides that interests in the trust cannot be alienated, which can be interpreted to allow settlors to alienate their interests, but to restrict other beneficiaries, namely remainder beneficiaries, from alienating their interests. Accordingly, this clause should not be an impediment to Petitioner's efforts to modify the trust.

Petitioner states she and Manfred Schnitzler established the trust with the assistance of an attorney in Roseville, California, who they did meet with personally, but Lydia believes the terms were never adequately explained to them. The attorney never explained the effect of the "spendthrift" clause and Lydia was not aware of its existence. The specific gifts of real property set forth did not correctly and completely identify the properties to be gifted, but Manfred and Lydia signed the document without examining it for correctness. See declaration of Lydia Schnitzler.

Probate Code § 15409 permits modification of a trust upon changed circumstances. Settlers did not intend that there be a spendthrift clause which would limit their ability to modify the trust in the future to comply with their wishes. They did not intend that neither one could change the terms of the trust when one of them died. They certainly did not intend that the surviving spouse be unable to amend or change the marital trust, which was the trust for the surviving spouse's one-half share of the community property.

The trust does not provide for distribution the way the settlors intended. Their intent was to have their assets pass to their children in the manner they wished to have them distributed. They did not intend that the surviving spouse have no control over where the assets go after the first spouse dies.

Petitioner states one of the purposes of the trust was to shield assets from taxes; however, at this time, they do not need a trust with an irrevocable bypass trust due to the increase in the estate tax exemption.

Petitioner states that although Manfred Schnitzler had health problems, his death was very sudden and the settlors did not anticipate that he would die before they could change the trust to provide for distribution of the assets according to their wishes. Nor did they anticipate that the entire trust would become irrevocable so that the survivor could not make changes or adjustments to provide for changed circumstances.

As a result of the inflexibility of the trust, the existence of an irrevocable family bypass trust, and the apparent inability of the surviving settlor to change even the marital trust consisting of the surviving spouse's shares, the continuation of the trust under its terms would defeat the accomplishment of the purposes of the trust, which are that the assets be distributed in accordance with the settlors' wishes.

Gary Schnitzler, Steven Schnitzler, and Marlene Jackson have all consented to the proposed modifications:

- That the Marital Trust continues to be subject to revocation and amendment by the surviving spouse upon the death of the first spouse to die
- That all assets of the trust upon the death of the first settlor to die be allocated to, distributable to, and held, managed and distributed pursuant to the terms of the Marital Trust.

Petitioner intends, upon receipt of the Court order, to either amend the Marital Trust or exercise her general power of appointment with respect to Marital Trust Property to provide for a distribution as previously set forth.

Petitioner prays for an order approving and directing modifications of the trust as set forth in the petition.

After Dr. McCann died, Mrs. McCann reported the property on his federal estate tax return as jointly owned by them only – Respondent's bare title interest was not mentioned.

Likewise, in a verified "Heggstad" petition filed by Mrs. McCann on 8-8-07 in Marin County Superior Court (Case No. PRO 073729) as successor trustee, the property was reported as community property of Dr. and Mrs. McCann to be conveyed and distributed as part of the trust. There was no reference to Respondent having an interest in the property.

Finally, the Property was specifically allocated to the Marital Trust when the Trust was divided. Thus, Mrs. McCann always intended and understood that all beneficial ownership was held by and would pass pursuant to the trust.

Petitioners state that when Respondent was confronted with documentation of his name on the title to the property, he executed a quitclaim deed back to his parents on 4-11-07. However, the deed was never recorded.

The First Amendment to the trust expressly provides that the property shall be allocated to Respondent as part of his equal share of the trust if he so elects. This arrangement was discussed when the successor trustee appointments were made and executed. He expressed satisfaction with this arrangement on both occasions.

However, on 8-8-08, Respondent had Mrs. McCann execute a Warranty Deed restoring his joint tenancy interest in the property, and concealed this from the trustees. This deed was not prepared by the estate-planning attorney in Maine, and the attorney also did not prepare two other documents purportedly signed in January 09 which purport to give Respondent the contents of the property and forgive any debts to her.

Respondent failed to inform the trustees of the Warranty Deed until after Mrs. McCann's death when he transferred the names on the various accounts for the property into his own name, and for the first time since his name had been placed on title, paid property taxes and insurance from his own funds.

In Oct 2010, he hired an attorney to commence his challenge of the trust and formally assert the position that he owns the property outright as surviving joint tenant, repudiating the long-term agreement that the joint tenancy was simply and unequivocally an accommodation for his convenience.

Respondent holds title to the property subject to a resulting trust or constructive trust fbo the trust and should be ordered to quitclaim all of his interest to the trustee.

In addition, Petitioners state Respondent has wrongfully taken, concealed and disposed of other property of Mrs. McCann and the trust. He gained access to the real property in Maine without authorization, changed locks, removed tangible personal property of the trust including four expensive oil paintings, a mink coat, and other valuables. He used trust funds to purchase a new Mercedes Benz for his sole personal use, and made other unsupported expenditures, cash withdrawals and payments that cannot be traced to any valid trust purpose. He threw lavish parties at the Property and the Maine property, travelled frequently at the trust's expense, and otherwise spent trust money as if trust assets were his own assets.

Petitioners provide authority for the foregoing petition and pray for an order:

- 1. That the Trust and all Amendments thereto are valid;
- 2. Directing Respondent, as former Trustee, to produce all documents and records, including supporting receipts, for the expenditures identified in Exhibits M and N to this petition;
- 3. Directing Respondent to return to, or reimburse, the Trust for all assets wrongfully taken, with interest at the legal rate;
- 4. Directing Respondent to pay the Trustees an amount equal to twice the value of all assets recovered herein pursuant to Probate Code §859;
- 5. Directing that Petitioners' Attorneys' fees and costs herein be charged against Respondent's share of the Trust upon final distribution; and
- 6. For such other and further relief as the Court deems appropriate.
